Título Original: A Separate Reality (Further Conversation With Don Juan)
1971 Carlos Castaneda

Colección Popular 135. 302 pág.

Este libro recoge, por un lado, la recapitulación de lo que el aprendiz Castaneda vivió al lado de su maestro Don Juan en su primera etapa de aprendizaje (1961-1965) y, por otro, la reanudación de su aprendizaje, a partir de abril de 1968, dos años y medio después de haberlo abandonado "definitivamente". Castaneda relata que cuando recibe el primer ejemplar de su libro Las enseñanzas de Don Juan siente un gran deseo de mostrárselo a Don Juan. Hecho que lo pone de nueva cuenta en el camino del conocimiento de la Toltequidad, en un segundo ciclo de aprendizaje que según las propias palabras de Castaneda fue "muy distinto del primero".

Castaneda no quiere reanudar el aprendizaje, o por lo menos no tiene un deseo consciente de hacerlo. Mucho menos desea repetir sus temibles experiencias con las plantas de poder. Sin embargo, de manera "misteriosa" siente la necesidad de reanudar el aprendizaje. El empeño principal de Don Juan en esta etapa se concentra en enseñar a "ver" a Castaneda. La diferencia entre "mirar" y "ver" consiste básicamente en que "mirar" es poder confirmar a través de nuestra vista que el mundo es tal como nuestra razón nos dice que es, y "ver", es la capacidad del hombre de conocimiento para percibir el mundo a través de cargas de energía.

Don Juan insiste a Castaneda que debe reiniciar sus encuentros con "el humito", porque de esa manera tendrá "la velocidad requerida para vislumbrar el mundo fugaz". Don Juan le dice que la única manera en que un hombre de conocimiento puede saber es "viendo" más allá de la superficie de las cosas. El "humito", dice Don Juan, le ayudará a "ver" cómo los hombres en realidad son un conglomerado de fibras de luz que circulan desde la cabeza hasta el ombligo, las cuales hacen aparecer a cualquier hombre (rey o limosnero) como un huevo luminoso. Las fibras luminosas unen al hombre con lo que le rodea, dándole equilibrio y estabilidad. El simple hecho de pensar en volver a vivir las experiencias anteriores con el "humito" aterra a Castaneda y trata de evitarlo a toda costa.

Dentro de las habilidades de "ver" está poder distinguir entre los hombres y "los que no son gente", es decir, los "aliados" de los brujos. La mezcla a fumar, le explica Don Juan, lo llevará a donde se encuentra su aliado y, cuando "se haga uno con su aliado", ya no tendrá que fumar para poder convocarlo las veces que quiera, a fin de realizar lo que él le

Don Juan sostiene que cuando un hombre logra "ver" que todos son huevos formados de fibras luminosas, se da cuenta de que nada se les puede cambiar, y se da cuenta de que todo en el mundo es igual y que por lo tanto nada es más importante que otra

*Los "aliados", según Don Juan, son fuerzas, ni buenas ni maías, que los brujos utilizan para sus propósitos. Estas fuerzas por lo general toman aspectos humanos y cuando un hombre de conocimiento los "ve" conservan su aspecto humano, lo cual los delata. Estos seres son inorgánicos.

The book makes the point that there is a succession of naguals, where in every new generation of nagual needs to form his own little cult of warriors. And only in this book, published in 1981, he suddenly remembers all this. If there was maybe a chart to visually see what we¢ÃÂÂve been working on would be awesome. For this purpose, they must perform years and years of repetitive exercises: sitting in wooden crates trying to relive all their life up to that point, swinging from the ceiling suspended in leather straps, staring at heaps of leaves for In the end, etc. Task collection is periodically updated. Yes, five years in a wooden breeding, to improve death in life. I don't see the basis for credibility in the life of Castened or in the achievements of your students. Why? But as for the other challenges, these are incredible and powerful. You can activate reminders in the configurations that can help you in the DIARY PRORT. This surpasses any conception of Christian martary and, in itself, is more than enough to stop taking anything literal than the nuts. I would say that all this obsession with forming its own cult perfectly reflects what Juan Castaneda was doing in his real life in the late 70's (almost 20 years after meeting Don Juan). But apparently Don Juan regularly played Castened on his back and thus shifted Castaneda to the "left side" or "Increased Consciousness", of which he would not have a zero remembrance later, never realizing the huge Lost time intervals. The character bona Soledad spent 5 years sitting on a wooden breed, remembering her life to the time, in order to secure a safe pass by the water. There is, however, a bit of interesting new detail about the art of dreaming (basically, get control of your dreams to the point where you can perform miracles in daily life, such as flying) and the art of Stalking (basically, get control of people and events in daily life, manipulation and stealth techniques, to realize your goals in the magical world of the Eagle.)
